ONLINE TRAINING PROGRAMME SERIES (2006 – 2012)

The Banking Association South Africa, acting in its capacity as the Secretariat for the SADC Banking Association, and with funding provided by the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA), has awarded two five-year contracts to the Institute for Public-Private Partnerships, Inc. (IP3) to design, develop, and implement on a serial basis two intensive skills-based online training programmes titled, PPP Skills and Competency Development and PPP Project Officers Management Skills Development.

To facilitate and encourage participation from the Southern African Development Community (SADC) region¹ the SADC Banking Association is offering an Incentive Scholarship Fund to cover partial tuition fees to qualified SADC nationals and individuals from SADC-based organizations. The scholarship programme is described below:

Scholarship Application Process

The Scholarship application process requires two steps:

- First, you must complete the actual programme registration form for the online programme you wish to attend by clicking on one of the online programme links below
- Second, once you have registered for your desired programme, an email confirming your registration will be sent to you as well as a link to the Scholarship Application form, which you can complete online.

You must register for the online programme first before you are able to complete the Scholarship Application form. Scholarships are limited and therefore not all applicants will be successful. Individuals must complete the course requirements in full and acquire the qualification before claiming the scholarship. If the individual fails to complete the course requirements, he/she will be liable to IP3 for the balance of the tuition fees.
